Part IVA—Reviewing compliance with this Act and consequences of non-compliance

18 Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Part:

- The Minister will set minimum standards in relation to gender equality indicators, relevant employers and reporting periods.
- The Agency may review a relevant employer’s compliance with this Act by seeking further information from the employer. The Agency may do this on a random basis.
19 Minister will set minimum standards in relation to gender equality indicators

(1) Before 1 April 2014, the Minister will, by legislative instrument, set minimum standards in relation to specified gender equality indicators, specified relevant employers and specified reporting periods.

Note 1: See also section 33A of this Act.

Note 2: For specification by class, see subsection 13(3) of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003.

Note 3: An instrument under subsection (1) may make different provision with respect to different relevant employers and different reporting periods: see subsection 33(3A) of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901.

(2) An instrument under subsection (1) has no effect in relation to a reporting period unless it is made before the first day of that reporting period.

19A Agency may review compliance with Act

(1) The Agency may, by written notice, require a relevant employer to give the Agency information:
(a) that relates to the employer’s compliance with this Act or to the employer’s performance against the minimum standards; and
(b) that is specified in the notice.

(2) The notice must specify the period within which, and the manner in which, the information must be given.

(3) A period specified in a notice under subsection (1) must be at least 14 days after the notice is given.

Note: Sections 137.1 and 137.2 of the Criminal Code create offences for providing false or misleading information or documents.

19B Relevant employer fails to comply with Act if employer gives false or misleading information

For the purposes of section 19D, a relevant employer is taken to fail to comply with this Act if:

(a) the employer lodges a public report under section 13A and any information included in the report is false or misleading; or
(b) the employer gives the Agency information under section 19A and the information is false or misleading.

Note: If the employer does not have a reason for the failure, the Agency may name the employer in a report given to the Minister or by electronic or other means: see section 19D.

19C Relevant employer fails to comply with Act if employer fails to improve against minimum standard

If:

(a) a relevant employer lodges a public report under section 13A in respect of a reporting period (the base period); and
(b) in a case where a minimum standard (the base standard) applies in relation to the employer and the base period—at the end of the base period, the employer fails to meet that standard; and
(c) the employer lodges a public report under section 13A in respect of the second reporting period (the comparison period) after the base period; and then the failure referred to in paragraph (d) is taken, for the purposes of section 19D, to be a failure to comply with this Act.
(d) at the end of the comparison period, the employer’s performance against the base standard has failed to improve from the employer’s performance against that standard at the end of the base period;

Note: If the employer does not have a reasonable excuse for the failure referred to in paragraph (d) of this section, the Agency may name the employer in a report given to the Minister or by electronic or other means: see section 19D.

19D Consequences of non-compliance with Act

(1) This section applies if a relevant employer, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with this Act.

(b) a relevant employer fails to inform employees, shareholders or members of the employer that a public report has been lodged (see section 16); and

(c) a relevant employer fails to inform employees and relevant employee organisations as required by sections 16A and 16B; and

(d) a relevant employer fails to give the Agency information under section 19A.

Naming employer in Agency report

(2) The Agency may, in a report under subsection 12(1) or (2), name the employer as having failed to comply with this Act and set out details of the non-compliance.

Naming employer in other ways

(3) The Agency may, by electronic or other means, name the employer as having failed to comply with this Act and set out details of the non-compliance.

Note: For example, the Agency may do this on the Agency’s website or in a newspaper.

Prior notice to employer

(4) If the Agency proposes to:
(a) name an employer in a report under subsection 12(1) or (2); or
(b) name an employer under subsection (3) of this section;
the Agency must:
(c) give the employer notice in writing of the proposal and the reasons for the proposal; and
(d) invite the employer to make written representations to the Agency about the proposal within the period of 28 days beginning on the day the notice is given; and
(e) have regard to any written representations made by the employer within that period.

(5) If:
(a) a relevant employer lodges a public report under section 13A in respect of a reporting period; and
(b) the report is lodged within the time allowed by section 13B or 17;
then, during the period of 28 days beginning on the day the report is lodged, the Agency must not give the employer a notice under subsection (4) of this section in relation to the lodgement of that report.

19E Agency to offer relevant employers advice and assistance if employers fail to meet minimum standards

If:
(a) a relevant employer lodges a public report under section 13A in respect of a reporting period; and
(b) in a case where a minimum standard applies in relation to the employer and that reporting period—the Agency becomes aware that, at the end of that reporting period, the employer fails to meet that standard;
the Agency must offer to provide the employer with advice and assistance in relation to improving the employer’s performance against that standard.
